For more space, use the back of this sheet.

My photos are tightly structured images with control over the arrangement of elements in their relation to one and another. I arrange these elements to achieve an emotional, conceptual and personal satisfaction in my photographs.

My work has as it's basics the selection and arrangement of elements within the camera's film frame to achieve an emotional satisfaction of my visualization. I am concerned with composition, color and the relationship of one element to the other. Each photo is tightly structured with much attention to details of object placement, little is left to chance.

Many of the objects are irrational together from a casual viewpoint, but rational and natural when viewed in the totality of the impression and it's emotional response. ~~I am seeking the expression~~
